many addicts start as teenagers, which is a time in a person's life notorious for risky or poor choices having been used for years in korea, it was exported to thailand and japan where it was used to flavor chicken, beef and fish, much to the delight of consumers.

that was me when i was a youngster: poor, but deeply addicted to dying my hair